

SAHRIS OBJECT PDF REPORT

Object Code: 83/213

Quantity: 1.00

Cultural Association:

Maker:

Production Place:

Description:

Cannula: A hollow tube with a sharp, retractable inner core that can be inserted into a vein, an artery, or another body cavity. An intrauterine device (IUD), is a small, often T-shaped birth control device that is inserted into the uterus to prevent pregnancy, c. 1935.

Provenance:

Cape Medical Museum